

GLOBAL MOBILITY

EXECUTIVE

LEADERS EXCHANGE

DECEMBER 10

USA

Global Mobility in 2020 has seen huge change. The need for organizations to adapt to a distributed workforce has been paramount for business continuity in this new world of work. 2021 will see the continued need for transformation in order to navigate the new age of Talent Mobility. Hosted by the Global Mobility Executive in partnership with Quicken Loans, we'll touch on the lessons and success captured from 2020 and the key trends facing Global Mobility as we head into the new year. Join this session to share ideas, insights, and key learnings with your peers.

IN PARTNERSHIP WITH

Quicken Loans[®]

Global Mobility Re-Imagined 2021

- What lessons and success have we captured in 2020?
- What key trends will be most prevalent in the next 12 months?
 - Attracting and retaining diverse talent
 - Remote workers and virtual assignees
 - Harnessing technology to monitor remote employees
 - Increased focus on compliance
 - Duty of care and assignee well-being
- How will the role of the Global Mobility leader change in 2021 and beyond?
- How can we build on recently gained level of support from within the broader business and truly position Global Mobility as a key strategic partner?

Key Contributors: Debbie Convery, Director - Global Talent Mobility at Nike, Inc.

Rina Montalvo, Director - Global Mobility and Immigration at News Corp

Timing

- 11:00 – 11:15 (PDT) Welcome and introductions
- 11:15 – 11:45 (PDT) Breakout sessions
- 11:45 – 12:30 (PDT) Leaders exchange VX